

SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR ENHANCING SECURITY APPLICATIONS

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 A security system and methodology are provided employing a process that determines whether to use an image and/or other inputs received from at least one remote input node. In one illustrative embodiment, the invention comprises a system and method for using image input in conjunction with wireless transmission to increase personal safety.